medmix announces strategic partnership with Gurit for sustainable solutions for industrial bonding applications

medmix has partnered with Gurit, a global leader in advanced composite materials, to advance sustainable solutions for industrial bonding applications. Gurit's BondPro adhesive will be dispensed using medmix' MIXPAC™ greenLine™ cartridge system, combining Gurit's advances in adhesive technology with medmix' cartridge-based application knowledge and commitment to sustainable packaging.

The partnership supports customers across automotive, transportation, industrial, construction, and agriculture sectors in meeting evolving demands for performance and sustainability in bonding applications. Gurit's expertise in high-performance adhesives for industrial environments complements medmix' leadership in sustainably engineered cartridges, offering solutions that balance effectiveness with reduced environmental impact.

This collaboration is part of medmix' broader commitment to invest in technologies and partnerships that advance responsible solutions across its business. It further strengthens medmix' position as a leader in sustainable dispensing technology while expanding access to high-performance bonding solutions worldwide.
